

Key Stage 3– Animal Awareness Trip

Dear Parents,

This activity is aimed at empathetic students who have a keen interest in animal welfare, survival and protection. Students participating in this programme should be confident to ask and answer questions and have a desire to try something new.

During the week's trips, students will participate in a range of informative and inspiring sessions which include a combination of classroom learning and interactive activities across Dubai's varied animal attractions. They will learn how animals survive in different environments and understand the importance of relationships in the animal community. Students will also realise what lifestyle factors play an important role in the protection of animal habitats and survival and what they can do personally to have a positive impact on our environment.
